

THE GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 9.
REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT.
BENJAMIN HARRISON.
OF INDIANA.
FOR VICE PRESIDENT.
LEVI P. MORTON.
OF NEW YORK.

Mark County Republican Convention.

A republican county convention is hereby called to meet at the court house in the city of Janesville, at two o'clock p. m. on Wednesday, August 15th, 1888, for the following purposes: To elect thirteen delegates to represent Mark county in the first Congressional District Convention to be held at Clinton on August 20th, to nominate a candidate for member of congress.

To elect thirteen delegates to represent Mark county in the Republican State Convention to be held in Milwaukee on August 22d, to nominate candidates for state officers.

And to transact any other business which may properly come before the convention.

The several towns and wards will be entitled to delegates as follows:

Beloit, Bradford, fifth ward, city of Janesville, two (2) each; Avon, Harmony, Janesville, Johnson, La Prairie, Magnolia, Rock, first ward, city of Beloit, three (3) each; Center, Fulton, Lima, Newell, Plymouth, Porter, Taylor, the city of Edgemoor, second and fourth wards, city of Beloit, third ward, city of Janesville, four (4) each; Spring Valley, third ward, city of Beloit, second ward, city of Janesville, five (5) each; fourth ward, city of Janesville, six (6) each; Clinton, and first ward, city of Janesville, seven (7) each; Milton, eight (8) Union, nine (9).

By Order of the County Committee.

W. T. YANKIE,
L. J. BURDICK,
M. V. PRATT,
S. C. CHASE,
STILLMAN WARD.

Republican County Committee,
Janesville, Wis., August 1st, 1888.

MORE CONVERSIONS.

Verily is "the saving grace of republicanism doing its perfect work." More brands have been plucked from the banner. More democrats have been converted of the error of democracy and have found consolation in the republican camp. The spirit of protection is taking hold of the people, and hundreds who have lived in the darkness of democracy, are now seeking light and joy in republicanism. The Gazette has already named many democrats who have been converted of the folly of walking in the counsel of free-traders, who have found grace in republicanism, and instead of waving the red bandana and dancing to the music of British free traders, they are marching under the American flag and singing Tippecanoe and Protection too.

And day by day the list of these democrats is growing longer. Some of the principal ones, in addition to those already named, are the following:

A life-long democrat, Capt. James L. Topping of Genesee county, New York, has come over to the right side.

Simon Howard and Charles Collins, two life-long democrats of Wyoming, New York, are among recent converts to republicanism.

Benjamin Jettys of Frankford, Pennsylvania, who was a soldier of the late war and always a democrat, has declared himself a Harrison man.

Benjamin Ray of Newburg, New York, an old time democratic wheel-horse and former member of the assembly, has come over to Harrison.

John D. Carson, a Dalton, Massachusetts paper manufacturer, heretofore a democrat, announces that he cannot support Cleveland and Thurman this year.

Among the influential recruits from the democracy to Harrison and Morton is John M. McNair, Esq., a well-known lawyer of Danville, New York.

Mr. Henry Chute of Brooklyn, a life-long democrat, is another one of the army of democrats who declare their preference for Harrison and Morton.

F. M. Anfesser, a large wool dealer of Albany, New York, and a life-long democrat, announces that in future he will vote and work for the republican ticket.

William Armour of Benwood, West Virginia, who never voted a republican ticket, declares his intention to vote for Harrison and protection this fall. His four brothers will do likewise. All are steel-workers.

Colonel Jas. B. Deegan, president of the town council of Ashland, Pennsylvania, who two years ago was the democratic candidate for the legislature, announces himself in favor of Harrison and Morton.

Henry C. Stout, of Sellersville, Pennsylvania, one of the largest cigar-box manufacturers of the state, and a staunch democrat of thirty-two years' standing, declares that henceforth he will vote the republican ticket.

Out of the forty-five voters in the new Republican club at Fort Egan, New York, seventeen had been democrats up to this summer. This is one of the little straws which shows which way things are drifting in New York state.

A man in Canton, New York, while talking with a friend on the political outlook, took a book from his pocket and opening to a list of names said: "There are the names of twenty-one men in this town who voted for Cleveland in 1884; they will each vote for Harrison and Morton this fall."

The Bradstreet Brothers of Gardiner, Maine, are among the most extensive and enterprising lumber manufacturers on the Kennebec river. They employ over 200 men. Their annual output of manufactured lumber is 13,000,000 feet. Both the brothers have always been staunch democrats. They know when they have enough, and hereafter will vote the republican ticket.

Congressman Bowden of the Second Virginia district claims that the republicans are going to carry Virginia for Harrison. He says: "Mr. Woodworth of the iron and shipbuilding works at Norfolk, told me the other day that his foreman says he does not think there will be a Cleveland vote in this work, where there are about 300 men employed. Therefore, he said, they were all democrats but eight."

William F. McNamara, a prominent

THE REMAINS OF GENERAL SHERIDAN.

Leave Nonquitt.

EN ROUTE FOR BURIAL AT THE CAPITAL.

The Express of the Dead Soldier's Features Peaceful and Natural—Further Details of the Funeral Arrangements.

TO THE TOMB.

New Bedford, Mass., Aug. 8.—Wednesday afternoon the press representatives were allowed to look upon the dead hero as he lay in his casket at the cottage at Nonquitt. It had previously been decided by Mrs. Sheridan that General Sheridan should be buried at his home and not the body sent from herself and the household; but the thought that perhaps if such a ceremony was maintained the public would gain the impression that there was something about General Sheridan that should not be soon caused her to change her decision. The casket rested in the middle of the room upon pedestals placed upon a mat of black and white. The remains were a noble and life-like expression. The emaciation which one would have been led to expect after months of sickness was not seen upon his rounded features. His still gray hair was brushed carefully, and his eyes were closed, and a peaceful, quiet, contented look was spread over his face. He appeared like a leader who had done his duty nobly, with satisfaction to himself and his country, and was now at rest. The casket was carried by four men, who were dressed in the uniform of the general carried during the war of the rebellion. The yellow sash which he wore in the United States army, and which was his gold resolute also rested on the coffin. The numerous army corps badges, which it was customary for Sheridan when alive to wear, were not seen on Sheridan dead. The crown cap, also, was not seen on the casket, but the bright buttons, and the shoulder straps of the gold epaulettes.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

THE REMAINS OF GENERAL SHERIDAN.

Leave Nonquitt.

EN ROUTE FOR BURIAL AT THE CAPITAL.

The Express of the Dead Soldier's Features Peaceful and Natural—Further Details of the Funeral Arrangements.

TO THE TOMB.

New Bedford, Mass., Aug. 8.—Wednesday afternoon the press representatives were allowed to look upon the dead hero as he lay in his casket at the cottage at Nonquitt. It had previously been decided by Mrs. Sheridan that General Sheridan should be buried at his home and not the body sent from herself and the household; but the thought that perhaps if such a ceremony was maintained the public would gain the impression that there was something about General Sheridan that should not be soon caused her to change her decision. The casket rested in the middle of the room upon pedestals placed upon a mat of black and white. The remains were a noble and life-like expression. The emaciation which one would have been led to expect after months of sickness was not seen upon his rounded features. His still gray hair was brushed carefully, and his eyes were closed, and a peaceful, quiet, contented look was spread over his face. He appeared like a leader who had done his duty nobly, with satisfaction to himself and his country, and was now at rest. The casket was carried by four men, who were dressed in the uniform of the general carried during the war of the rebellion. The yellow sash which he wore in the United States army, and which was his gold resolute also rested on the coffin. The numerous army corps badges, which it was customary for Sheridan when alive to wear, were not seen on Sheridan dead. The crown cap, also, was not seen on the casket, but the bright buttons, and the shoulder straps of the gold epaulettes.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the soldiers, and the casket proceeded toward the station. The train was composed of the general's private car, followed by the casket, and the rest of the train.

The funeral train, bearing the remains of the late General, left New Bedford for New York at 4:30 o'clock.

Presently the bier was lifted in position and the coffin laid upon it. It was lifted by the shoulders of the

1
 2
 3
 4
 5
 6
 7
 8
 9
 10
 11
 12
 13
 14
 15
 16
 17
 18
 19 20
 21
 22
 23
 24
 25
 26
 27
 28
 29
 30
 31
 32
 33
 34
 35
 36
 37
 38
 39
 40
 41
 42
 43
 44
 45
 46
 47
 48
 49
 50
 51
 52
 53
 54
 55
 56
 57
 58
 59
 60
 61
 62
 63
 64
 65
 66
 67
 68
 69
 70
 71
 72
 73
 74
 75
 76
 77
 78
 79
 80
 81
 82
 83
 84
 85
 86
 87
 88
 89
 90
 91
 92
 93
 94
 95
 96
 97
 98
 99
 100
 101
 102
 103
 104
 105
 106
 107
 108
 109
 110
 111
 112
 113
 114
 115
 116
 117
 118
 119
 120
 121
 122
 123
 124
 125
 126
 127
 128
 129
 130
 131
 132
 133
 134
 135
 136
 137
 138
 139
 140
 141
 142
 143
 144
 145
 146
 147
 148
 149
 150
 151
 152
 153
 154
 155
 156
 157
 158
 159
 160
 161
 162
 163
 164
 165
 166
 167
 168
 169
 170
 171
 172
 173
 174
 175
 176
 177
 178
 179
 180
 181
 182
 183
 184
 185
 186
 187
 188
 189
 190
 191
 192
 193
 194
 195
 196
 197
 198
 199
 200
 201
 202
 203
 204
 205
 206
 207
 208
 209
 210
 211
 212
 213
 214
 215
 216
 217
 218
 219
 220
 221
 222
 223
 224
 225
 226
 227
 228
 229
 230
 231
 232
 233
 234
 235
 236
 237
 238
 239
 240
 241
 242
 243
 244
 245
 246
 247
 248
 249
 250
 251
 252
 253
 254
 255
 256
 257
 258
 259
 260
 261
 262
 263
 264
 265
 266
 267
 268
 269
 270
 271
 272
 273
 274
 275
 276
 277
 278
 279
 280
 281
 282
 283
 284
 285
 286
 287
 288
 289
 290
 291
 292
 293
 294
 295
 296
 297
 298
 299
 300
 301
 302
 303
 304
 305
 306
 307
 308
 309
 310
 311
 312
 313
 314
 315
 316
 317
 318
 319
 320
 321
 322
 323
 324
 325
 326
 327
 328
 329
 330
 331
 332
 333
 334
 335
 336
 337
 338
 339
 340
 341
 342
 343
 344
 345
 346
 347
 348
 349
 350
 351
 352
 353
 354
 355
 356
 357
 358
 359
 360
 361
 362
 363
 364
 365
 366
 367
 368
 369
 370
 371
 372
 373
 374
 375
 376
 377
 378
 379
 380
 381
 382
 383
 384
 385
 386
 387
 388
 389
 390
 391
 392
 393
 394
 395
 396
 397
 398
 399
 400
 401
 402
 403
 404
 405
 406
 407
 408
 409
 410
 411
 412
 413
 414
 415
 416
 417
 418
 419
 420
 421
 422
 423
 424
 425
 426
 427
 428
 429
 430
 431
 432
 433
 434
 435
 436
 437
 438
 439
 440
 441
 442
 443
 444
 445
 446
 447
 448
 449
 450
 451
 452
 453
 454
 455
 456
 457
 458
 459
 460
 461
 462
 463
 464
 465
 466
 467
 468
 469
 470
 471
 472
 473
 474
 475
 476
 477
 478
 479
 480
 481
 482
 483
 484
 485
 486
 487
 488
 489
 490
 491
 492
 493
 494
 495
 496
 497
 498
 499
 500
 501 502
 503
 504
 505
 506
 507
 508
 509
 510
 511
 512
 513
 514
 515
 516
 517
 518
 519
 520
 521
 522
 523
 524
 525

ALL-RECOMMENDED

CORSETS SHORT HIP

WASH

HEALTH PRESERVING

COILED WIRE SPRING

MADE IN U.S.A.

If you value HEALTH and desire a Correct that combines ease, comfort, durability and is at the same time perfect in shape and close fitting, ask your merchant for B. SCHILLER'S HEALTH PRESERVING CORSET.

MONEY REFUNDED if not entirely satisfactory. For sale by dealers generally.

SCHILLER CORSET CO.
DETROIT, MICH.
261 & 263 Franklin St., Chicago,
FOR SALE BY BORT BAILEY & CO.
Janesville and Beloit.

STATE OF WISCONSIN—County Court for the County of _____

of said County Court, to be held in and for said County Court, at the first Tuesday after the first Monday of the month of July, 1888, at 9 o'clock a.m., the following matters, will be heard and considered:

The petition of J. W. Baile, for the appointment of an administrator of the estate of J. W. Baile, deceased.

Dated July 14th, 1888.

By the Court: J. W. Baile, County Judge.

NOLAN & CUNNINGHAM,
Attorneys for petitioner.

STATE OF WISCONSIN—GRACIE COUNTY.
In the County Court of said County, at the first Tuesday after the first Monday of the month of July, 1888, James F. Marsh, defendant.

The State of Wisconsin to the said defendant: You are hereby notified that the same will be heard and considered at the first Tuesday after the first Monday of the month of July, 1888, at 9 o'clock a.m., at the County Court of said County, at the place therein above entitled section, at the court room, and in case of your failure to do so, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint.

NOLAN & CUNNINGHAM,
Plaintiff's attorneys.

P. O. Address, Janesville, Rock County, Wis.

County, on the 31st day of August, A. D., 1888.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS—STATE OF WISCONSIN, COUNTY COURT, for Rock County—in probate.

Whereas, the estate of the next Federal term of the county court to be held in and for said county at the court house, in the city of Janesville, Wisconsin, on the 1st day of Tuesday of February, A. D. 1889, being February 2nd, 1889, at 10 o'clock of the forenoon, the following matters will be heard, considered and adjudged:

1. The claims against "ANN BRYAN, late of the city of Janesville, in said county deceased."

All such claims must be presented for allowance to said court, at the Court House, in the city of Janesville, Wisconsin, on the 1st day of February A. D. 1889, or be barred.—Dated July 18th 1888.

By the Court,
J. W. SALE, Justice.

JULY 20th

COUNTY COURT FOR ROCK COUNTY—in probate.—Is the master of the estate of HUGH M. BARNES, deceased.

Public notice is hereby given that at a special session of the county court, to be held on the 1st day of February, A. D. 1889, at 10 o'clock of the forenoon, the following matters will be heard, considered and adjudged:

IN THE COUNTY COURT, for the county of Wisconsin, on the third Tuesday, of September, A. D. 1886, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, the master of the petition of Charles E. Bowers and others, against the heirs of said deceased, to determine who are all the heirs of said deceased, and to divide the same, and to determine the interests of the parties in the title of said decedent in the lands described in said petition and to divide the same, and to determine the same, finding said determination, naming in said petition the names of the parties to said petition, and the parties, which said determination will be heard—JANESVILLE, Wisconsin, August 28th, 1886. J. W. SALLS, County Judge.

in the lands described in said petition and to the heirs of said deceased, as well as to the finding and determination, namely; so that judgment the persons entitled to it receive the same, and to the wife of said deceased will be heard.

Witness my hand and seal at Jamestown, Wisconsin, this 10th day of August, A. D. 1886.

J. W. SAILLÉ, County Judge.

STATE OF WISCONSIN—COUNTY COURT FOR Florence County.—In probate.

Know all men by these presents, that at the next September term of the County Court to be held in and for said county at the court house, in the town of Florence, State of Wisconsin, on the Tuesday of Sept. A. D. 1886, being September 1st, 1886, at ten o'clock, a. m., the following matter will come up for consideration:

The petition of J. N. Karpson for the adjustment of his claim against the estate of David Kirkwood, late of the city of Jamestown, in said county of Florence, State of Wisconsin, and also of the residue of said estate to such persons near by law interested therein.

Dated Aug. 10, 1886.

By the Court.
J. W. SAILLÉ, County Judge.

SUPREME COURT, ROCK COUNTY—Florence County.

The State of Wisconsin, to the said defendant, do hereby summon you to appear within twenty twenty days after service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and defend the complaint, or your failure so to do, judgment
will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint.

PETER WUNDER & GOLDING, Plaintiff's Attorneys,
attorneys at law, Rock County, Wisconsin.
The complaint in this action was filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court for Rock county on the 16th day of July, 1899.

JULY 17th

STATE OF WISCONSIN—CIRCUIT COURT
FOR ROCK COUNTY.—James Gallagher, plaintiff, vs. John J. Gallagher, James J. Gallagher, John Gallagher, James Gallagher, Thomas Gallagher, Felix
Gallagher, George Gallagher, William Gallagher, Berny Gallagher, and Mary Gallagher as administratrix de bonis non, with the will annexed of John J. Gallagher deceased, defendants.

You are hereby summoned to appear within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and defend the complaint, or your failure so to do, judgment
will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint.

herewith served upon you.

W. P. THOMPSON, J. H. SMITH & S. H. SMITH,
P. O. Address Jacksonville, Duval county, Fla.
Attorneys at Law.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—STATE OF FLORIDA.
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF DUVAL FOR BOKE COUNTY.—In probate.

Notices being that at the next regular term of the County Court to be held in and for said County at the Court House, in the City of Jacksonville, to-wit: on the first Tuesday of February, A. D. 1886, to-wit: the first day of said month, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, all persons having claims against the within named decedent will be heard and considered and adjusted:

Witness my hand and the seal of said County at the City of Jacksonville, in said county, this 24th day of January, A. D. 1886.

Notices to said claims must be presented for allowance to said court, at the court house, in the city of Jacksonville, in said county, on or before the 3d day of January, 1886, or be barred. Dated Jan'y 2d, 1886.

By the Court,
J. W. BAILEY, Clerk.

JUDICIOUS AND Advertising has always successful. Refore place your news paper Advertising with LORD & THOMAS
ADVERTISING AGENCY
218 to 219 Randolph Street. Chicago

WANTED

Men to travel on salary for the POST HILL
NURSERY OF CANADA. $50 to $100 a month and expenses to sell of Canadian Grown Nuts, previous experience necessary.
Your stock lists will give you the information.
Send any other on the market. Address
STONE & WELLINGTON,
Madison, Wis. Wisconsin.

